East Village Development Denver, Colorado

East Village Development, a focus area in downtown Denver, designed to anchor the existing renaissance in the City's urban core. The site was also designed to better utilize its developmental capacity and further understand how the site serves the City of Denver and Denver Housing Authority's Redevelopment efforts. Recognizing that mixed-use projects and mixed housing types make neighborhoods more livable and vital, UNiT design studio created a vibrant, attractive, high density, sustainable mixed-use inner-city neighborhood. Creating safe and efficient circulation patterns throughout the development supported by transit oriented plans, equally respecting vehicular and pedestrian mobility. Designing a rich and attractive development enhanced the City's public and open spaces by combining strong and attractive linkages to Benedict Park, downtown and surrounding neighborhoods.

In accordance with making the neighborhood more livable, UNiT design has created mixed use urban centers that focus on green spaces.
